

AIPFCC & HUSH MERGER

“Alone we can do so little. Together we can do so much”
– Helen Keller

In February 2016, The Australian Institute for Patient and Family Centred Care (AIPFCC) merged with The Hush Music Foundation (Hush) to create a single entity known as, ‘The Hush Foundation’.

Initially established in 2009, the AIPFCC set out to transform the quality and safety of Australian healthcare by encouraging effective and innovative partnerships between patients, families and healthcare professionals.

Similarities in value alignment, direction and governance with Hush highlighted an opportunity to work collaboratively together to concentrate resource in areas of key focus. The Hush Foundation has assimilated the core values of the AIPFCC, while remaining true to the musical origins and themes at the heart of Hush. With the visions of both Hush and the AIPFCC now united, we look forward to propelling the importance of patient centred care to the forefront as we work together to change the culture of healthcare in Australia and beyond.

info@hush.org.au
hush.org.au

